Positioned at the fashionable Dovedale end of the High Street and an integral part of the street scene of the beautiful village. This end of terrace three storey, three double bedroom Grade II early 18th Century cottage has undergone a complete program of modernisation.

Combining the innate character and charm of a period home with all the contemporary refinements of modern day living the property now has a substantial two-storey extension to the rear creating a whole new dimension to an already stunning home.

The property has a welcoming sitting room to the front with an Inglenook fireplace housing a wood burning stove. There is a stylish modern Dove Grey fitted kitchen with a range of integrated appliances and a light and airy rear living room with a lantern roof and direct access on to the landscaped garden.

On the first floor there are two bedrooms; one with an ensuite shower room and a separate family bathroom with a four-piece suite including a roll top bath. The master bedroom is on the second floor enjoying some excellent views over the village also has a spacious ensuite bathroom.

The property is warmed with gas fired central heating from a pressurised water system including piped underfloor heating to the main of the ground floor. There is electrical underfloor heating in the main bathroom and the master bedroom ensuite.

Externally the property has off street parking for one vehicle (which is unusual for this part of the village), and at the rear there is a small beautifully landscaped garden with an elevated dining terrace.

The Dovedale end of Blockley in which the property is located is a no through road, which minimises the traffic flow and gives access to some wonderful walks in the surrounding countryside. The village itself has two public houses, a good quality village store and a café which is open daily and serves as a fine dining restaurant several evenings a week. Blockley is located mid-way between the Cotswold café society of Chipping Campden and the traditional market town of Moreton-in-Marsh with direct links to London Paddington.
