Guide Price £550,000, Freehold

Property Description

Forming an integral part of the street scene of this picturesque North Cotswold village and combining the innate character and charm of a mid 17th century period home with the contemporary refinements of modern day living, this inner-terraced, three storey, three bedroomed village retreat is strongly recommended for internal inspection.

Period features of the property include a cosy front living room with a homely wood burning stove in an inglenook fireplace and stone flagged floors. There are some exposed random pointed stone walls, antique oak beams, wattle-and-daub style panelling particularly to the first floor and two inviting window seats at the front of the property. More contemporary refinements include gas fired central heating from a combination boiler, sealed unit double glazing, a solid oak fitted kitchen with a range of integrated appliances and the master bedroom on the second floor has its own ensuite shower room and w.c.

To the rear the property has its own enclosed southerly facing rear garden taking full advantage of the sun most of the day and perfect for alfresco dining.

The property is located mid-way between two of the most famous towns in the North Cotswolds, Chipping Campden and Broadway, where there are a wide range of good quality restaurants, shops and supermarkets. Willersey is serviced by two public houses, a garage and local stores.

This property has a right of access over the garden of Campian Cottage to the main street. Large, almost full-width, timber cabin.

Front Area

To the front of the property there is a raised gravelled area with mature lavender bushes and a communal pathway that leads the whole of the length of the five properties. This property enjoys pedestrian access to a tarmacked lane which leads to the main street. This property also has a right of access across Campian Cottage for refuse or garden materials.

N.B

Whilst there is no official off-road parking for the property, there is an unofficial arrangement that the five cottages in the terraced row can park in the tarmacked area in front of Farm Court which is diagonally opposite the property across the road and to the right.
