Guide Price £389,950, Freehold

Property Description

Positioned in a distinctive row of terraces originally dating from the mid 19th century, this substantially extended inner-terraced, three-storey, two double bedroom village retreat now offers every opportunity for those looking to adapt a property to their own requirements and viewing is strongly recommended.

The property could hardly be better positioned for walks in the surrounding countryside around Blockley and in to Dovedale woods. There is also the centre of the village only a few hundred yards downhill where there is the very popular well-stocked village shop and cafe that opens as a fine dining restaurant several evenings a week.

The property itself has been upgraded some time ago with the addition of Upvc double glazed windows and gas fired central heating from a combination boiler. There is a sizeable kitchen and bathroom extension and dormer windows have been added to the second floor creating a light and airy room. Attractive views can be enjoyed over gardens towards distant countryside and the property has its own well planted garden and a stone outhouse suitable for a variety of purposes.

Unusually the property's orientation is back to front with pedestrian access from Greenway Road to the property's front door in to the kitchen. The rear of the property fronts Backends where there is unallocated parking available.

Blockley is positioned midway between the market towns of Chipping Campden and Moreton-in-Marsh with the latter having its own railway station with direct links to Oxford and London Paddington. The village has its own primary school, two public houses and is widely regarded as one of the most attractive villages in the North Cotswolds.
